Dear Jeff;

It is my pleasure to provide you with our employees' response to your seminar, "Excelling as a First Time Manager or Supervisor." People appreciated your down to earth manner, and enjoyed the way you interspersed humor through out the content of the program. Our learning experience was one which not only provided us with valuable advice but kept us entertained as well! Your knowledge of the subject was evident and the analogies you used enabled our employees to relate the information to their own situations.

I'm sure people were relieved and delighted to find that their learning experience could be both informative and fun! You have an energizing and positive communication style. On behalf of the employees at SIGA, thank you Jeff for the great seminar!

Sincerely,

Brenda A. Robertson
